

GREAT CROWD GREET'S MARSHALL; CAMPAIGN OPENS IN PUTNAM

Thousands of Democrats from Putnam and Surrounding Counties Gather at Greencastle to Hear the Brilliant Orator Discuss the Issues of the Campaign—Town Dressed in its Gala Costume to Welcome the Next Governor of Indiana

SPOKE IN THE OPEN AIR FROM PLATFORM

Parade Formed at Court House Square at One O'Clock and Marched to the Home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Tilden to Escort the Speaker of the Day to Town—Great Enthusiasm and Hearty Cheers Greeted the Speaker

It was Marshall Day in Greencastle. Thousands of Democrats from all over Putnam County and from surrounding counties were in Greencastle to hear the eloquent speaker talk on the political issues of the day.

Mr. Marshall arrived at 11:15 o'clock this morning on the interurban from Terre Haute. He was accompanied from Terre Haute by District Chairman Peter Foley. Mr. Marshall and Mr. Foley were met at the station by the reception committee of the Bryan and Kern Club and immediately taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Tilden, where they remained until after one o'clock.

At one o'clock a parade formed at the court house and marched to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tilden where Mr. Marshall and his party were taken in carriages and brought to the square. Two bands were in the parade—the Stilesville and Bainbridge bands. The procession was made up of thirty or forty carriages, a horse-back brigade and many who marched on foot.

Cheer after cheer greeted the Democratic candidate for Governor as he came from the Tilden home to meet the crowd. The procession, headed by Willis Woods, the marshal of the day, marched back to the square. As Mr. Marshall appeared on the square he was greeted with tremendous cheers.

Mr. Marshall rode in the first carriage of the parade. With him were Mr. Foley, Col. Matson and F. C. Tilden. Following them came a long line of carriages with others of the reception committee. Then followed many other carriages filled with Marshall admirers and good old Putnam County Democrats.

Next followed those on foot. The horse back brigade headed by the Bainbridge band led the procession. The procession marched around the square and to the speakers stand on the east side of the court house. There were loud demonstrations of enthusiasm from the hundreds around the square as Mr. Marshall passed.

At about this time the Danville delegation 250 strong, headed by the Danville band, marched onto the square and around the court house. The Danville aggregation was a noisy and enthusiastic bunch.

the noise of the demonstration had died away, Mr. Marshall began his address. Time after time he was compelled to pause because of the applause.

NOTES OF THE DAY

It was some meeting. Hendricks County was 'it' today. Did you notice the yellow badges? If Jim Watson could only have seen it.

That is what you call a crowd—a real crowd.

Several long-faced Republicans were noticeable today.

One train alone brought in 129 passengers to the grand rally.

Mr. Foley and Mr. Marshall left on the four o'clock car for Terre Haute.

Putnam County Democracy should be congratulated upon a most successful day.

The Bainbridge and Mt. Meridian bands were there with the music. Each did exceedingly well.

Each interurban car was crowded and the large proportion of voters coming in was a fact much commented upon.

If Jim Watson could have seen this crowd he would express himself in the latest slang "Ain't it awful, Mabel?"

The Bryan and Kern Club lost little time in getting into the game. Its members were very noticeable in a great crowd heard Mr. Marshall and all were greatly impressed by his talk. Mr. Marshall is the winner was the general expression.

There are few, even among the Republicans, who do not believe that Mr. Marshall will succeed the "much loved" Governor Hanly, in the high office chair.

Why should the spirit of mortal be proved? Jim Watson would not be nearly so cheery as he is if he had seen the crowd and felt its political pulse.

There is a limited supply of Bryan, Kern and Marshall campaign pictures at the Herald office. Persons desiring them may secure them here. None will be given to children.

It pays to be right, to do right, and champion the cause of the people against the encroachment of combined capital, corporate greed and the grasping oppression of trusts and monopolies.

The crowd was an unusually orderly one. No drunks or disorder made their appearance and everyone wore his "glad rags," a smile that wouldn't come off and a Bryan and Kern badge.

Greencastle presented a gala appearance today. The town was decorated with flags and bunting and hundreds of pictures of Mr. Marshall, Mr. Bryan and Mr. Kern. It was a gala day.

There were many here from out of the county. Those who came, however, were not furnished round trip tickets and $1 bills as were the Watson meeting "boosters" who came from Danville.

The Hendricks County delegation was a hummer; it brought with it a big brass band, an unlimited amount of enthusiasm, and a numeral strength of over 200, and they all paid their own expenses.

Jim Watson and his bunch of listeners would have been lost in today's crowd—to have looked for them under such circumstances would have been akin to looking for the proverbial needle in the hay stack.

One of the advertising features of the day was a paper butterfly distributed by Badger & Green. On the back of the butterfly was fastened a sand burr which was used to hold the butterflies in place on a coat or waist.

Ben Lingenfelter of Danville, well known here, was one who came with the Danville delegation. Another well known Danvilleite is Attorney Brill. The Danville delegation made a great hit.

Putnam Democrats are up and doing in this campaign against greed, graft and gammon put up by the Republican party—the Marshall meeting demonstrated an earnest enthusiasm that is bound to show when the votes are counted out.

The horse back brigade caused much comment. Willis Wood, Sergeant at Arms of the Bryan and Kern Club, who originated the idea of having horsemen in line and who worked up the brigade, is to be congratulated upon his success.

A glance at the square with Old Glory fluttering from practically every business house, draped above the doors and windows and twined about posts and above the Bryan and Kern pictures in the windows, showed Greencastle's political bearings.

Peter Foley, district chairman, was here today. He accompanied Mr. Marshall from Terre Haute. Mrs. Marshall did not come with her husband. She is the guest of Mrs. Foley in Terre Haute and this afternoon attended a luncheon given by Mrs. Foley in her honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Tilden entertained informally at lunch for Mr. Marshall. Those present were Mr. Marshall, Col. C. C. Matson, Peter M. Foley, of Terre Haute, W. L. Dennman, Jas. L. Randel, Alec Lane, C. C. Hurst, Dr. G. W. Bence, James P. Hughes, David Hostetter, J. M. Rawley and F. C. Tilden.

Chairman Zels sees the possibility of appointment as postmaster, as arranged prior to the Republican congressional convention surely and sedulously fading away—the G. O. P. is clearly on the retreat, with the rear guard of officeholders and office-seekers in a demoralized condition.

Gilbert Clippinger, correspondent for the Indianapolis News, was the busy boy today. Mr. Clippinger went to Brazil this morning and came up on the car with Mr. Marshall and Mr. Foley. He did this that he might get from Mr. Marshall a resume of the speech Mr. Marshall delivered here this afternoon.

The crowd present was unwavering by influence of federal office holders and unbought by gain; the people were not furnished with railroad transportation and cash to entice them here to swell the crowd. They were here as good citizens and intelligent voters, to hear the facts truthfully presented, and they got what they came for.

Quite a number of men who have heretofore lined up in untiring regularity with the Republican party and supported the Republican nominees were out to hear Marshall today. They were pleased with the man; they were pleased with his speech; they were convinced that he deserves the support of all good citizens and they say they will give him their votes and their support.

HON. THOS. R. MARSHALL

The next Governor of Indiana, who addressed a great crowd here this afternoon. Mr. Marshall is a forcible speaker. He held his audience during his entire speech. Never has there been such a political sentiment for any State candidate as there is for Mr. Marshall this year.

There will be a delegation go from Danville to Greencastle, Saturday, to hear Hon. Thomas R. Marshall, the Democratic candidate for governor, who will open the campaign in Putnam County at that time. A fare of 50 cents has been secured for the round trip, leaving Danville at noon and returning on the Knickerbocker from Greencastle. Make your arrangements to go.—Danville Democrat.

The demand for badges was overwhelming. Everybody wanted the yellow satin ribbons with Bryan and Kern upon them. Old gray-haired men were them proudly, the fellows whose first vote will be for Bryan pinned them on their lapels, pretty girls from out-of-town and other pretty girls in the stores about the square, donned the insignia of Democracy, even the children cried for them.

The procession escorting Mr. Marshall to the court house from Mr. Tilden's residence reached from Bloomington Street westward to Jackson Street. The people were walking, on horseback, and in carriages, and there were two brass bands. The procession was all right, the music was all right, the speaker was all right, and the people are all right, as will be demonstrated when the votes are counted out in November.

It was especially the day of the old Democrats. The men who had grown old in voting for the things they believed were right were all out to hear the issues of the day from the mouth of the man who stands for what they believe is Democratic principles. One of the first to arrive in town was Lewis Stewart of Roachdale, who forgot in his enthusiasm his eighty-two years, and grew young again in contemplating Democratic victory.

Well, the day, the man and the principles he represents and advocates

LAST NIGHT'S FIRE DESTROYS TWO BARNS

DEATH OF MRS. CHRISTIE

Death came this morning at 6:30 o'clock to Mrs. P. R. Christie after months, or in fact years, of illness, for Mrs. Christie had been in failing health for more than three years. An attack of paralysis three years ago, was followed by a first and second, till the fourth stroke, which occurred on the 3d of last April. Mrs. Christie, Romania Pauline Talbott, was born in Greencastle on January 27, 1857 and was the daughter of Dr. James and Pauline Blake Talbott. When she was but a little child her parents moved to California, where they lived till her young womanhood. It was here, her mother and two sisters died and after their death the father and daughter returned to Indiana, settling at Logansport. While on a visit to relatives in Greencastle, she met P. R. Christie, to whom she was married on September 4, 1878.

Six children came to them, two dying in infancy. The others survive and were with their mother at the last. They are Mrs. Laura Moag of Indianapolis, George who is with his father in his store, Talbott who is in business in Springfield, Mo., and Ward who is employed in Indianapolis. Beside these are the husband, an aunt, Mrs. E. G. Fry and an uncle, George Blake. The friends who knew and loved Mrs. Christie are numberless. She was essentially a home woman, passionately devoted to her family and living for and with them, yet her marvellously attractive personality drew to her all who came in touch with her. She had a wonderfully sympathetic, tender nature which won confidence and love. To one who remarked of Mrs. Christie that her unselfishness and sympathy were the secret of her power of making friends a more intimate friend said, "It was that, but it was more. She had an unflinching optimism, which came from a deep unwavering faith in God and this hopefulness which always said 'It is far the best' was the secret of her power."

Mrs. Christie's neighbors and friends were the constant recipients of the overflow of her thoughtful kindness, and those who came to her for sympathy and counsel were never refused.

She was devoted itself to her family, and her beautiful christian life was lived out among them. Her worn Bible is an eloquent testimonial to her love for the book, and her steadfast faith in God was the source of her quiet strength in the presence of illness or trouble, as well as a constant inspiration to others. Lowell's beautiful words are expressive of her unselfish spirit:

"She doeth little kindnesses Which most leave undone or despise, And naught that sets one heart at ease, And giveth happiness or peace Is low-esteemed in her eyes."

She had been a member of the Presbyterian Church, and a most loyal and devoted one she was, since her early girlhood. The funeral service will take place tomorrow at 3:30 at the Presbyterian Church. Owing to the illness of the pastor, Rev. VanDye, Dr. J. S. Hoagland will conduct the service.

CHILD'S FINGER AMPUTATED

Jesse, the five-year-old son of John Hill, has the third finger on his left hand amputated yesterday afternoon as the result of getting it badly cut in a cutting-box. The accident occurred two weeks ago and the parents had not considered the injury serious till examination by the physician proved that amputation was necessary. The operation was performed at Dr. Zaring's office by Drs. Zaring, Hutcheson and King.

A Dry County.

The pastors of the city will make addresses in their various pulpits tomorrow evening in behalf of the temperance movement. The question is prominently before the people at present and all who are interested in making Putnam County dry should be present.

Stables of J. O. Cammack and Mrs. Susan Sewell Burn Early Last Evening—Mystery as to the Origin Of the Conflagration—Electric Light Wires, Children With Fire And Rats Are All Blamed.

LOOKED VERY BAD FOR AWHILE

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the barns of J. O. Cammack and Mrs. Susan Sewell last night at near 7 o'clock. The barns were on Hill Street between Indiana and Jackson. They adjoined each other.

The fire was discovered by Policeman Arthur Stone as he was coming up Jackson Street to the square. He was near the home of John Young when he noticed the blaze. Stone called to Young, who was sitting on his porch, to turn in the alarm.

By the time the fire department reached the scene the two structures were a mass of flames and sparks were going high into the air. It looked for a while as though several buildings near would take fire. In fact several did but the flames were quickly extinguished with water from buckets and garden hose.

A brisk blaze which started on the roof of the Charley Broadstreet residence might have resulted in a bad fire had it not been quickly extinguished.

The firemen, with two lines of hose, worked hard for a short time in protecting the nearby houses and killing the flames in the burning structures. The barns, however, are a total loss. Mr. Cammack got his horse and buggy out of the barn in time to save them. The loss is confined to the buildings and some hay and grain. The loss will amount to several hundred dollars.

On account of the dryness of everything at this time a fire is extremely dangerous. There are several causes given for last night's fire. Some say it resulted from children playing with fire, others from electric light wires and some say that rats and matches started it.

Putnam County Dry.

Sunday night at 7:30 p. m. in the College Avenue Church there will be a temperance mass meeting. Dr. Hoagland will speak on the subject: "Putnam County Dry." Capt. Starr will sing some rousing temperance songs. Every man who is interested in the proposition to rid Greencastle and Putnam county of saloons has a cordial invitation. The pastor would prefer to have the people there who are opposed to the proposition. The subject will be discussed from the high plane of public morality, justice and fair play.

THE DIFFERENCE.

Mr. Marshall, in his speech at Terre Haute, made a statement that is worthy of more attention than has been given it. He said: "If you want me for governor you can have me; if not, I have a good job at home." This is a statement that Mr. Watson could not make. He never had a good job at home. He has never earned a dollar, except what he has received from the Republican party for his labors have been for the party and not for the people from whom he received his yearly salary. We say his salary was not earned, for we understand Mr. Watson asked, before he voted for a measure, "Is it for the best interests of the party?" and then voted. He has never been known to ask, "Is it for the best interests of the people?" A united attack is being made upon Speaker Cannon because he is declared to have been opposed to all good legislation, and in favor of all legislation desired for the interests. It should be remembered that Mr. Watson was his right hand man in all these things, and that he worked strenuously to carry out the speaker's desires, and is equally guilty with him. He has been a professional politician, careful of the interests of the party because it was his job, careless of the interests of the people except in promises made at election time. He will, if elected, take with him to the office of governor, that attitude toward party and people, an attitude acquired through years of professional politics. He can not, if defeated, go home to a good job. Perhaps it would be well to give him a chance to earn some money as the ordinary citizen does, that he may better appreciate the significance of labor and taxes.

OBITUARY

THOMAS WILLIAM HOUCK.
 Thomas William Houck was born in Pennsylvania in the year of 1833. He moved to Putnam county, Ind., with his parents when a small boy and remained there until he grew to manhood. At the age of twenty-one he came to Iowa, and located in Madison township, Poweshiek County, where he has spent the remainder of his life.

He was united in marriage to Miss Syntha Kent March 10th 1856. To this union were born four children three sons and one daughter, Hiram N. of Alexandria, S. D. John H. of Hitchcock, S. His last sickness was only of a few days duration. He died of dropsy at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Chas. Raudabush, August 21, 1908, at the age of 75 years, 5 months and 3 days. He was one of the oldest residents of Madison township and enjoyed the respect and confidence of his neighbors and friends for he was an honest, straight forward and upright man. The funeral services were conducted by Dr. E. Benson of Brooklyn from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Chas. Raudabush at 2 p. m. Sunday afternoon and the remains were laid to rest in the Kent cemetery witnessed by a large concourse of neighbors and friends.—Hartwick, Iowa Exchange

HOW TO GET STRONG

P. J. Daly, of 1247 W. Congress street, Chicago tells of a way to become strong. He says: "My mother, who is old and was very feeble is deriving so much benefit from Electric Bitters, that I feel it's my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine about it. In my mother's case a marked gain in flesh has resulted, insomnia has been overcome and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly remedy stomach, liver and kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at The Owl Drug Store, 50c.

The Sleeping Top.

A spinning top "sleeps" in obedience to a law of nature. The top at the period of its spinning called by boys "sleeping" has the centrifugal and gravitative forces acting upon it in a nearly balanced degree. Obeying chiefly the rotary force imparts to it by the player, the top seems for a little while, until that force is overcome by gravity, to be in a state of comparative rest.

DEMOCRATIC NEWS

What Good Democrats Over the State Are Saying About Things Political in Indiana And Elsewhere.

The Good Trusts.

The New York World prints this editorial: "Has the fertilizer trust also joined the ranks of the 'good trusts'?" Why has Attorney General Bonaparte so unexpectedly instructed the government attorneys in charge of the prosecution of the officers of the Virginia-North Carolina Chemical Company to suspend operations. His action must have been taken with the approval of Mr. Roosevelt. A year ago Mr. Roosevelt was raging up and down the country denouncing malefactors of great wealth and law-defying corporations. He was going to scourge them from the land. In his Memorial day speech at Indianapolis he declared: "There has been plenty of dishonesty by corporations in the past. There will not be the slightest let-up in the effort to hunt down and punish every dishonest man." At Providence on August 20, 1907, he repeated the threat: "Wherever evil-doers can be found they shall be brought to justice; and no criminal, high or low, whom we can reach shall receive immunity." Why has Mr. Roosevelt become a reactionary? Why has he turned aside from the mighty professions of only a year ago? He no longer denounces from the platform the methods of "The Standard Oil people and those engaged in other great combinations," or the "ruthless and determined men whose wealth makes the particularly formidable because they hide behind the breastworks of corporate organizations." The Chicago platform, on which Mr. Roosevelt so warmly complimented Senator Hopkins, is a different affair from his speeches of twelve months ago. There are no noisy threats to punish predatory plutocracy. The interests the president used to belabor with epithets seem to take it complacently. They show no signs of alarm and hostility. The corrupt men of great wealth are not in jail and they are not attacking this new Roosevelt platform. On the contrary, Wall Street accepts with unqualified satisfaction the suppression by its author of My Program. Is Mr. Roosevelt a reactionary will support it.

 "There will be a hard fight in California, but Bryan will surely have Oregon and Washington. The Independence league founded by Hearst, is not making much headway out on the coast or elsewhere. The socialist ticket will get more votes in San Francisco than the Independence league. In New York the Democrats elected Hughes two years ago because they did not want Hearst. This year it will be different."
 The news that comes from New York is very encouraging to those on duty at Democratic headquarters.
 Favors Corporate Interests.
 In a special dispatch from New York to the Chicago Record-Herald of Tuesday its correspondent discussing the market report sends the following:
 "The most interesting feature of the day was a report which circulated in the best circles to the effect that a government attorney was authorized for the statement that the suit of the government against the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific companies for violation of the Sherman act had been definitely dropped and the prosecution having after many conferences and thorough consideration arrived at the conclusion that it would be unable to make out a case against those roads. Formal announcement of this termination of the litigation would, it was said, be withheld until after the election."
 Hon. J. E. Lamb of Indiana, a member of the advisory committee of the national committee, commenting upon this statement had this to say: "In view of the fact that this statement is published in the Chicago Record-Herald, which is supporting Taft and Sherman, however much it may astound the general public may be considered as authentic. Those suits against Mr. Harriman's pet railroads were ordered brought by the administration something over a year ago, with a great flourish of trumpets and it was generally believed that the administration was in earnest and that the department of justice would obey orders. Now that Mr. Harriman has promised to be good and his special attorney, William Nelson Cromwell, has been appointed a member of the republican national advisory committee and has contributed 50,000 to the fund of that committee, it seems that the prosecution has after many conferences and thorough consideration arrived at the conclusion that it would be unable to make out a case against those roads." Is the conclusion arrived at an honest one; or rather is not the conclusion the result of the changed attitude of the Harriman railroads towards the republican national ticket? Is the fact that 'formal announcement of the termination of this litigation would, it was said, be withheld until after the election' corroborative proof that a new deal has been made between 'my dear Harriman' and somebody representing the United States government? These are questions that will be thoroughly discussed and considered by the voters until the November election."

Would Not Be Bled.

Judge Frank S. Roby, of the Indiana Appellate Court has written a letter to George Dinwiddie, who has charge of the assessments for the Republican State Committee, flatly refusing to pay $200 as a campaign assessment. Notice of the assessment was sent to the Judge and he paid no attention to it. Another notice was sent, in which he was reminded of the fact that the assessment had been fixed and that a letter asking him to remit at once had failed to elicit a reply.

This letter Judge Roby answered by saying that he denied the right of the committee to say what sum he should pay toward the campaign, and, above all, no political party should invade the Courts of the state and drag them into politics.

In a concluding paragraph the Judge said that he had not the honor of an acquaintance with Dinwiddie, but he judged from the reading of his letter they would soon meet and become acquainted. He added that if Dinwiddie should visit him he should take care that the meeting did not take place in a dark alley or a secluded place.

What Parker Thinks.

Judge Alton B. Parker who has been traveling through the western states since the Democratic convention said on his return east that in his opinion, "William Jennings Bryan will be the next president of the United States." The Democratic presidential candidate of four years ago made something like a dozen speeches in Pacific coast states and everywhere he spoke he was greeted by tremendous audiences. The speeches of Judge Parker for Bryan and Kern have been one of the features of the campaign.

"I have been traveling through the western states since the Denver convention," was Judge Parker's observation, "and I find the Democrats well united, while nearly everywhere there are Republican fights, which will mean Democratic success. Information that I have received makes the situation very hopeful in New York. Tammany is a unit for Bryan and I feel confident that he will carry the state. It seems to me that conditions are ripe for an old time Democratic victory this year. The Republican full dinner pail is empty, union labor is with the Democrats, and the conservative element will support it.

 "There will be a hard fight in California, but Bryan will surely have Oregon and Washington. The Independence league founded by Hearst, is not making much headway out on the coast or elsewhere. The socialist ticket will get more votes in San Francisco than the Independence league. In New York the Democrats elected Hughes two years ago because they did not want Hearst. ## A Paying Investment.

Mr. John White, of 38 W. Main Ave., Houlton, Maine, says "I have been troubled with a cough since winter and spring. Last winter I tried many advertised remedies, but the cough continued until I bought a 50c bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery; before that was half gone, the cough was all gone. This winter the same happy result has followed; a few doses once more banished the annual cough. I am now convinced that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best of all cough and lung remedies." Sold under guarantee at The Owl Drug store, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Increase in Last Year's Lumber Cut and the Why of It

Washington, Sept. 8.—Figures of the lumber cut in 1907 compiled by the Bureau of the Census and the Forest Service showed the largest total ever reported in the United States, exceeding by over seven per cent the cut reported in 1906, until then the record year. This does not necessarily show a larger actual cut than in 1906, for the returns obtained last year were more complete than ever before. The figures themselves disclose some interesting facts.

In 1907, 28,850 mills made returns, and their production was over 40 billion feet of lumber. This is believed to include 95 per cent of the actual cut. In 1906, 22,398 mills reported about 37½ billion feet. Since according to these figures nearly 29 per cent more mills reported last year than the year before, while the increase in production was only a little over seven per cent, it might be thought that the amount actually manufactured must have been greater in the earlier year. This, however, would be a too hasty inference, for it is almost wholly among mills of small individual output that the gain in the number of establishments reporting has been made.

A classification of the returns by states and regions throws additional light on the situation. Individual changes, as for example the remarkable rise of Texas from eighth to third place among the lumber-producing states, are doubtless accounted for primarily by the greater accuracy of the 1907 figures; but in the majority of cases the advances and declines can be traced to specific influences.

Before the year closed the general business depression was severely felt in the lumber industry. It was not, however, the most important cause of a falling off in the production of the year where a falling off occurred. For decline in production took place only in certain regions. The South is the region of greatest activity in lumber production, and yellow pine the most important wood, forming 33 per cent of the entire cut of the country. The cut of yellow pine reported shows an increase of 13 per cent over that of 1906. In the early part of the year many of the southern mills cut so heavily that, in spite of the curtailed output which followed the business disturbance later, the total was greater than ever before. But in both the Lake States and the Northwest a smaller cut was reported than for 1906, though the number of mills reporting increased.

In the Lake States the falling off evidenced the waning supply of white pine. Michigan, which for many years led all the States in lumber production, and then gave way to Wisconsin, sank in 1907 from fourth to seventh place, while Wisconsin went from third to fifth. Minnesota as late as 1905 held fourth place. Last year it went from seventh to ninth. It was not until the latter 90's that the south displaced this group of states as the most important source of lumber supply. Since southern pine is abundant in all the Atlantic coast states from the Carolinas to Texas, the region as a whole will doubtless maintain its leading position for some years, in spite of the fact that at the present rate the bulk of the timber will be gone in another decade; but in totals of production by individual states the leadership has since 1905 been held by Washington.

The figures of production show that during 1907 Washington fell off very decidedly from its huge cut of 1906 while its sister state Oregon, is credited with a slight increase in its total. In the early part of the year Washington suffered from a car shortage, and at the end the combined effects of business disturbance and higher freight rates had brought the industry almost to paralysis. Oregon kept up its cut because of its larger proportion of coastwise and foreign trade. These two states together produced more lumber than any other two states in the Union.

It is a striking fact that though lumber prices have been steadily going up during the last half century, the per capita consumption of lumber has also been going up. In 1850, according to the best figures obtainable, the average consumption to each person in the country was 250 feet. In 1900, 460 feet, and in 1907, 480 feet. This illustrates what has been found true the world over—that with industrial progress the demand for wood becomes greater and greater.

WILL GIVE 2,000 VOTES

To the young lady securing the greatest number of new subscriptions to the Star and Democrat this week—up to 6 o'clock of Saturday, Sept. 12, a complimentary certificate of 2,000 votes will be given. This gives each young lady in the race an equal chance to add 2,000 votes to her score, and an opportunity to the candidates down low in the race to get up with the leaders.

Beginning today, Monday September 7, all new subscriptions to the Star and Democrat will count 450 votes in the contest. A new subscription to count 450 votes must be for a year and shall be paid in advance.

When the vote in the Star and Democrat contest was counted Friday night it was found that the leaders in each district had been displaced. Miss Maune Burris, in the south district, who has been gaining rapidly in the past week, stepped in front of Miss Roxie Hurst by a few votes.

The same thing happened in the north district, for Miss Mary Moler, who has been leading, fell a few votes behind Miss Mary Jacobs who gained the lead. The former leaders did not fall far behind, however, and are still right up at the top ready to step into their old places by the addition of a few votes.

The voting was very brisk today and Monday's tabulation of the votes is apt to cause a general stirring up in the standings. Beginning Monday the votes will be published each day. The winner of the 2000 vote complimentary certificate also will be announced on Monday.

RULES OF THE CONTEST.

Who is Putnam county's most popular young lady? This is what the Star and Democrat is going to find out. And when we speak of Putnam county, we mean, Putnam county out side of Greencastle. All candidates must live outside of the city of Greencastle. This contest is for the out district people alone.

To learn this the Star & Democrat has inaugurated a voting contest in fact two voting contests—for the county is divided into two districts a north and south. The dividing line will be a line running east and west along Washington street in Greencastle and will divide the county in half.

Everything north of this line will be in the north district and everything south will be in the south district. There will be a contest in each district.

The young lady in the north district securing the largest number of votes will be given $25 in gold. The one securing the second largest number of votes will receive $15 in gold.

Twenty-five dollars will also be given to the young lady in the south district receiving the largest number of votes and $15 to the one securing the second place in that district.

Candidates living in Putnam county out side of Greencastle only will be considered.

Each candidate nominated receives 25 votes and each will be started alike. Not more than one nominating ballot will be credited to any candidate.

Candidates must be between the age of 15 and 25 years.

To the young lady receiving the largest number of votes regardless of district an additional $15 will be given and the winner of the second place receiving the largest number of votes will be given an additional $5.

Candidates may work in any part of the county and are not restricted to their own district.

It will be a contest between the north and the south. Lets see who will win.

English Idea of It.
Little things frequently illustrate the English view of American geography very picturesquely. An Englishman had taken the Pacific express at Philadelphia and, feeling tired, had retired to his berth. Just before he fell asleep he happened to remember that he had forgotten something, so he put his head out between the curtains and called: "Portah, portah!" The porter came.
"What is it, sir?" he said.
"Please wake me when we get to San Francisco, you know."—Philadelphia Ledger.

CROWD SEES MARSHALL; CAMPAIGN IS NOW OPEN

ates seem to be endorsed with enthusiasm unbounded. No such a gathering of people has attended a political meeting here in many last past years. Compared with the attendance at the Watson meeting it is akin to contrasting a molehill to a mountain. Everything tends to demonstrate that the people are with the Democracy in the campaign of 1908, and everything goes to prove that Democracy is for and with the people and their rights in the campaign of 1908.

The big flag over the speakers stand was furnished by T. C. Grooms. Mr. Grooms, by-the-way, is the man who displayed the only flag which was hung out the day Jim Watson struck town. But back to the big flag. Few noticed the fact that it is the latest, the "Oklahoma flag." Most flags have only forty-five stars. The addition of Oklahoma, however, added a new star and now forty-six are needed. Mr. Grooms has had the flag for many years. He is a progressive gentleman though, and so when today occasioned the use of the big flag he arranged to bring it up-to-date. Yesterday noon he got busy with a pair of scissors and some paste and added the missing star. He is a progressive fellow.

RAT CATCHERS.

One of the Methods by Which They Make Big Hauls.

"Rat catchers, like horse tamers, try to make a mystery of their trade," said a zoo keeper.
He pointed toward the large gray rats that played about the corners of the carnivora house.

"But they can't mystify me in any phase of the rat question," he went on. "Living as I do, surrounded by an army of the largest, finest rats, I know the animals too thoroughly. I could set up as a successful rat catcher tomorrow."

"This is the way the men work. They go to the infested place late at night with a pair of tongs, a powerful lantern and a lot of bugs."

"They walk softly about in the darkness, and they make a low, chattering, whistling noise, like this."
At the sound all the rats in the corners of the big room looked at the keeper inquiringly. He went on:

"This is the signal whereby a rat tells his mates that he has hit on good feeding. That sound made in the dark gathers rats as molasses gathers flies. The catcher, having made it, opens his strong lantern, the rats are dazzled by the light, and he picks them up with his tongs and drops them in his bag."

"Of course there are other ways to catch rats, but of the secret, mysterious ones this is the best."—Exchange.

A CEYLON PLAGUE.

The Land Leeches Are Worse Than the Snakes or Mosquitoes.

It is nearly always the case that exceedingly beautiful countries are overrun by different kinds of pests. Beautiful Ceylon has mosquitoes said to be the most adroit and audacious in the world and snakes and a thousand more plagues of poor human beings, but the worst of them all is a species of leech. The Ceylon land leech is a thin creature about two inches long and very nimble and flexible. It will crawl up a man's leg and, traveling underneath the clothing, will climb as high as the throat. These leeches do not crawl like the leeches that are known to medicine, but rear themselves up on their tails to watch for prey and walk off to attack it with amazing rapidity. In walking through the jungle hosts of them may be seen by the roadside, where they wait to victimize cattle. Horses, it is said, are driven half wild by them, as also are petanquin bearers and coolies, whose bare legs are their favorite resort. The men's hands being too engaged to pull them off. The leeches may be seen hanging round their ankles, from which they trickles of blood run over the foot.—London Standard.
